Why quick checks work

- Faster feedback → You learn exactly what to reteach tomorrow.
- Higher engagement → Students know they’ll show what they learned today.
- Less grading load → Most items are brief (MC, short answer, sentence-level).
- Cleaner data → Each ticket targets a specific standard or micro-skill.

A peek at the formats

- Multiple-choice for rapid checks (e.g., greetings, numbers, capitals).
- Short answer to push production (e.g., “Write 2:45 / 10:30 in Spanish”).
- Targeted reflections to make thinking visible (“What still feels tricky?”).
- Mini-dialogues to reinforce interpersonal skills (meeting & greeting, restaurante).
- Mixed practice in upper levels (preterite vs. imperfect, subjunctive triggers, perfect tenses).

Answer keys are included where they make sense, so you can spot-check or let students self-correct in minutes.

Ways teachers use this ebook

- Bell-ringer or Do-Now (2–4 minutes)

- Exit ticket to close the loop (last 5 minutes)
- Stations/centers with leveled cards
- Warm-ups for speaking (turn a prompt into pair talk)
